

Workshop

Value of Geoinformation 2010

Sept. 30 - Oct. 2 | 2010 | Hamburg | Germany

We are pleased to announce the keynote speakers

- Roger Longhorn: Valuing the Invaluable: a Geoinformation Conundrum
- Andrew U. Frank: Producing Geoinformation of Value
- Steffen Fritz: The value of reducing uncertainties in global land cover with respect to climate change mitigation policy assessment

Second call for extended abstracts

The GeoValue '10 workshop focuses on the value of geoinformation, the assessment of Spatial Data Infrastructures, the socio-economic aspects of geoinformation, and quantitative methods and models for impact assessment. The workshop is addressed to experts in the fields of geoinformation science, economics, social and environmental sciences, urban planning and spatial data quality. It provides an opportunity to exchange experiences and methodologies across continents. This workshop represents an expansion of the discussions held last year at the GeoValue '09, organised in Hannover, Germany.

The Organising Committee of GeoValue '10 invites you to submit an extended abstract and take part in this important event. The international Programme Committee will consider the following contributions:

- Extended abstracts describing novel research, up to 3000 words without references (peer reviewed by two members of the Programme Committee);
- Contributions of young PhD researchers describing their PhD topics in the research areas of the workshop.

All selected extended abstracts will be orally presented at the workshop and printed in the workshop proceedings. Submitting an extended abstract will be considered as pre-registration to the workshop.

WORKSHOP TOPICS

The international Programme Committee would like to address the following overall topics:

- value, cost, and pricing of geoinformation
- assessment of spatial data infrastructures
- geoinformation value chain
- socio-economic impacts of geoinformation

The best extended abstracts and their authors will be invited to extend their abstract and contribute an article for the special issue of The International Journal of Spatial Data Infrastructures Research <http://ijsdir.jrc.ec.europa.eu/>.

IMPORTANT DATES

Extended abstracts submission deadline	June 15 th 2010 ( extended until June 30th )
Notification of acceptance	July 20 th 2010
Final extended abstracts delivery	August 10 th 2010
GeoValue '10 workshop   Hamburg	30 th September – 2 nd October

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Max Craglia
Andrew U. Frank
Bastiaan van Loenen
Roger Longhorn
Alenka Poplin
Abbas Rajabifard
Stéphane Roche

ORGANISATION COMMITTEE

Max Craglia
Alenka Poplin
Stéphane Roche

SUBMISSION

The extended abstracts should be submitted to the following E-Mail address:

geovalue@hcu-hamburg.de.

All extended abstracts should be submitted in English. The participants are expected to provide the extended abstracts by the above referenced dates. Upon review notification of acceptance will be accompanied by suggestions for revisions for the final paper. The template for the submission of the extended abstracts can be found on the <http://ijssdir.jrc.ec.europa.eu/index.php/ijssdir/about/submissions#authorGuidelines>.

Further information:

Alenka Poplin | HafenCity University Hamburg | DigiMap Lab

E-Mail: alenka.poplin@hcu-hamburg.de

Website: www.geo-value.net (will be accessible beginning June 20th)

GRANTS

AGILE supports GeoValue`10 for two PhD student grants in the amount of €400.- for each student. Young researchers are encouraged to send their applications for grants to the email address geovalue@hcu-hamburg.de

WORKSHOP FEE

The registration for the workshop is 150.- Euro, which includes participation at the workshop, snacks, coffee and the social event. The proposed workshop is financially supported by HafenCity University Hamburg and two PhD grants from AGILE.

We would be happy if you joined us at

